

Lou Second Meeting Notes

Creative Directing for Max:

- max showed me his Bee and Puppycat website mockups and they looked great
- going with second version
- he is making changes of adjusting visual hierarchy with scale of some elements
- also making adjustment of making some of the headers more visible
- we talked about trying to make some of the repeating frames from the show a sticky element for the website and then the user can just scroll

Designing for Michelle:

- liked the second version of the website best
- need to add some pictures to timeline
- add picture of Sakamoto to website
- make hover state of turning to full color for things in discography and film works sections
- like simple nav bar design
- might play with an accent color
